

There is no better catalyst for bringing people and organizations together than Leadership Speaker

Barbara Morris-Blake

There are plenty of Leadership speakers on the circuit, but when it comes to helping individuals and organizations benefit and better themselves – and tap into a profound and unexpected ripple effect that will keep delegates thinking and talking long after the session is over – there is no better catalyst than Barbara Morris-Blake. A sought-after organizational development consultant and coach who believes the best companies function like thriving communities, Barbara specializes in creating vibrant, high-performing workplace cultures where extraordinary communication is an ordinary habit.

Sample Presentation Topics

Transforming Organizations into Communities

Leading with the principle that the best companies function like thriving communities, this results-oriented session delivers insights and techniques to foster the open, authentic and productive conversations that help make organizations great. Participants will leave the room connected to their peers and motivated to dedicate themselves, at full capacity, to the purpose, success and culture of their workplace community.

Creating A Culture Of Intrapreneurship

Intrapreneurs behave as though the business they work for is their own. This is a leadership mindset that influences how these individuals think and conduct themselves, at the office and beyond. Through lively facilitator-led discussion, personal reflection and group exercises, this session will impel attendees to contemplate and strategize how to move themselves and their company forward in innovative and intrapreneurial ways.

Resilience: Bouncing Back From Whatever Life Throws at You

If you know how to tap into your unique personal strengths, it is possible to navigate any setback. In this engaging, interactive session, Barbara shares the story of her debilitating automobile accident and what it taught her about herself, others and the nature of resilience. Attendees will gain insights into their own reaction to adversity while discovering practical, personalized strategies for weathering life's ups and downs with assurance.

Now You Are Speaking My Language

How is it that an individual's way of communicating can be engaging and inspiring to one person yet off-putting and alienating to another? In this interactive session, participants will gain valuable insight into their personal communication style and how to make the minor (or not so minor) adjustments that will make a major difference to how they are perceived. Ultimately, this session is about helping delegates read their audience and acquire the communications skills that underpin effective leaders, coaches, mentors and co-workers.

For more topics and detailed descriptions visit:

<http://elevateorganizations.com/wp/leadership-speaker-barbara-morris-blake/>

Barbara integrates her deep knowledge of effective leadership styles and qualities with a practical and creative approach to adjustments that can make leaders more effective. She knows her stuff and knows how to make it accessible. A pleasure to work with.

Geoffrey Rowan,
Partner/Senior Counselor, Ketchum Public Relations

Barbara is a captivating speaker with the ability to command and engage a group and lead them through a session that both informs and entertains.

Jill Fairbrother,
Principal at Fairbrother & Partners Incorporated

Barbara helped me establish alignment among the group and help the senior team understand each other in ways that provided a balance of greater productivity, camaraderie and personal growth. I highly recommend her.

Nick Cowling,
General Manager, Citizen Relations

Barbara's warm and engaging personality, combined with sound judgment and problem analysis, and ability to provide high-quality solutions make her an excellent resource. Barbara's understanding of our business and its specific challenges provides her with a unique perspective on effective leadership development within a demanding and results-oriented creative environment.

Leith Mellors, CHRL,
Vice President of Talent, Canada at IPG Mediabrands

Engage Barbara to Speak with your Group

<http://elevateorganizations.com/wp/barbara@elevateorganizations.com>

U.S. Office:
Austin, Texas
Tel: 512-960-4440

Canadian Office:
Toronto, Ontario
Tel: 416-440-8434

Connect with Barbara Today!

 /elevateorganizations

 /elevateorganizations

 @LeadershipBlogs

Barbara is an excellent speaker. She spoke to our group at work on personality types, recognizing them and adapting to them Very informative and Practical.

Binu Jain, Manager,
Highmark Inc.

